

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN

TABERNACLE CREDITORS NOT SATISFIED.

A meeting of the creditors to whom the floating debt of $50,000 on the Brooklyn Tabernacle is due was held last week at the Bible House, in New York, under the auspices of the Rev. Chandler A. Olsen, Dr. Talmage's assistant. So many of the creditors had agreed to accept 50 per cent of the sums due them that it was hoped to effect a settlement, but when the amount due had been figured up and compared with the subscriptions forthcoming, Mr. Olsen was compelled to announce that only 23 per cent could be paid. Some of the creditors, among them Howell and Saxton, iron dealers, to whom $4,000 is due, and Kelsey and Longhlin, coal dealers, to whom $500 is due, were willing to accept the offer of 23 per cent, but the majority rejected it. It is said that unless all the creditors accept what is offered to them, or a sum is subscribed which will be sufficient to insure their receiving for the entire amount, the subscriptions will be returned to the donors, as they are contingent upon the discharge of the entire debt.

NOT READY FOR ANY MORE TRIALS.

Nothing is likely to be done this week toward trying any more of the officials and contractors indicted in connection with the Columbus celebration expenditures. Judge Moore said that District Attorney Ridgway talked with him about beginning another trial to-morrow, but as it would be harder to get the second jury than the first, if the trial began in the middle of the week, the trial would have to be adjourned over Sunday. District Attorney Ridgway said that he had not decided whether to try Pigott again, or one of the indicted Aldermen. He would express no opinion of the disagreement of the jury in the trial of Pigott.

THE SIN-TANNER DIVORCE SUIT.

When the suit brought by Colonel W. E. Sinn, manager of the Park Theatre, for the annulment of his marriage to Miss Cora Tanner, the actress, was called for trial yesterday, counsel said that they had agreed to submit the case on the evidence already presented, and wanted time to hand up briefs. A certified copy of the judgment of the Eau Claire County, Wisconsin, Circuit Court, granting divorce to Mattie E. Farlin from Dr. C. Fred Farlin in 1882, and a similar copy of the judgment of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, granting divorce to Cora Tanner from Dr. C. Fred Farlin in 1884, were put in evidence. Two weeks were allowed for handing up briefs.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

The Committee on Equalization of Taxes of the State Board of Assessors was in Brooklyn yesterday to confer with the Assessors of the city and the four county towns. In the absence of the latter the conference was adjourned until July 12.

David B. Hawkins, a son of the Rev. Dr. S. M. Hawkins, the rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, in Bedford-ave., was committed to the House of Correction at Middletown, N. Y., yesterday by County Judge Moore.

Nothing has been learned in regard to Mrs. Hannah F. Dixon, wife of Thomas I. Dixon, who left her home, No. 61 Clark-st., on Thursday of last week. She took diamonds valued at $800 and a bankbook with her, but has not drawn the money.

The third trial of the suit of Mrs. Ann Gaffney against the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, growing out of injuries caused by a trolley-car collision, resulted yesterday in a verdict awarding her $5,000 as damages.

The contract for cleaning streets and removing ashes was awarded to Robert Furey, the lowest bidder, yesterday by City Works Commissioner Adams. His bid is $23 a mile for cleaning 15,000 miles of streets annually for three years, and $100,000 for removing ashes for each of the first two years and $215,000 for the third year.

The United States authorities have taken possession of the jewelry and diamonds found in the possession of Eugene Leroux and Jeanne Dolle at No. 92 Berry-st. The prisoners will have a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Morle today, and some new evidence will be produced to support the charge of smuggling.

A young son of Charles De Bruyn, janitor of the Art Association Hall, in Montague-st., while on the roof of the building on Sunday, stepped on the skylight to get his handkerchief and fell through, alighting on the back of a chair in the gallery, nearly fifty feet below. The chair was broken, but the child appeared to be only bruised, and was able to get up and walk. He struck the chair with the lower part of his back.

Philip Nisch, a painter, forty years old, of Cleveland and Liberty-ave., was at work on a scaffolding at No. 2,342 Pacific-st., yesterday, fell from it and was killed.

NEWS FROM NEW-JERSEY

NEWARK.

YOUNG FALES ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE. Robert Alden Fales, the boy murderer, who killed Thomas Haydon, an old bookkeeper, a year ago, made an attempt last Sunday night to escape from the Newark Jail. Warden McNeillage knew of the plan and let Fales go ahead far enough to show that he intended an escape, and then he accused him. Fales confessed to the formation of a plan to escape. His case is now before the United States supreme court on a technical law point, and it may be a year before a decision is given.

Fales asked the warden yesterday to let him scrub the bathroom and closets of the main corridors of the jail. At 3 o'clock he got a brush and pail and began work. The warden suspected that Fales might raise the boards of the floor of the closets and get into the cellar. Fales went to his cell, and, after supper slipped out of his cell and into the closet. Afterward he returned to his cell and at 7:45 o'clock entered the closet again. The warden had seen the boy lifting up the boards of the closet floor. When he thought that Fales had raised the boards again and slipped into the cellar, he suddenly came out of the closet and returned to his cell and lay down. The warden made and came out. He then admitted that he intended to get into the cellar. He was locked in a new cell. He is under sentence of death.

About sixty of the creditors of Joy & Selver, manufacturers of fancy metal goods, who failed last week, met in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon, and a committee of five was appointed to examine the firm's accounts and to ask the Chancellor to appoint a receiver, who will be friendly to all parties, and help the firm to resume business. Simon R. Price, a brother of ex-Assemblyman Richard A. Price, died from smallpox at his home, No. 141-2 Clinton-ave., yesterday morning. The house was quarantined, and the body buried in Rosedale Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schumann, of No. 393 South Ninth-st., celebrated their golden wedding yesterday. Mr. Schumann is seventy-five years old, and his wife seventy-seven. They were married fifty years ago in Frobenmachi, Bavaria. The old couple had a reception at their home, and four children and twenty-eight grandchildren were present.

JERSEY CITY.

Benjamin Day, the Republican candidate for Councilman-at-Large of West Hoboken, who was declared beaten in the charter election by Charles J. Chatters, the Democratic candidate, by eight votes, yesterday applied to Judge Lippincott for a recount. He said that he had been deprived of thirty-four votes, which he felt belonged to him. Judge Lippincott refused his demand.

The New-York and New Jersey Telephone Company yesterday took to Jersey City a number of line-men whom they had brought from New-England to take the place of the strikers. As soon as the situation has explained to the strikers, they returned to their homes. So did a number who were brought from Pennsylvania.

ELIZABETH.

A suit for $20,000 damages was commenced yesterday in the Union County Court, by Julia F. Gilroy, against the Central Railroad of New-Jersey. The plaintiff was one of the victims of the rear-end collision on the Central Railroad at Greenville on December 8, 1892, and was badly hurt. She spent several weeks in the Jersey City Hospital, and since her removal to her home has not been able to leave her room. Since the accident it has cost her $200 for medical attendance.

PATERSON.

The wife of ex-Alderman Samuel S. Sherwood, a prominent citizen of Pateron, went into the cellar of her home yesterday morning to fix a drainage leading from a refrigerator above. She stood on two boxes, and the upper one slipped off, throwing her heavily to the cement floor. Her skull was fractured, and she died in an hour. Mrs. Sherwood leaves no children. Her maiden name was Turner, and she was once a well-known choir-singer in New-York.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

MOUNT VERNON.—The most intense interest is taken by the home-owners and taxpayers of Mount Vernon in the city election that takes place to-day, and they hope, with the assistance of the voters of those who look forward to owning a home to-night, and who now have to pay taxes indirectly, to elect the Republican ticket. The registration this year was not so large as that of last year, and this was due in a measure to the fact that there are many who do not know that under the workings of the new law, those otherwise qualified as voters must register in person before each election, to be permitted to cast their ballots. The taxpayers have reason to protest to their voters, against turning the city's affairs over to the Democratic machine. When the Republican Association of the city government, on June 15, 1892, a page of the city books showed this reprehensible condition of things, amount of land, amount of taxes, amount of unpaid bills, $19,547.27; total amount of shortage, $21,200.00; amount of overcharge for printing and advertising, election expenses account, etc., $24,524.43. The Republican Mayor and Common Council have ended this bad financial condition by an orderly management of the municipal system, together with providing for the payment of many thousands of dollars in bills and claims, left behind and unpaid for by the Democratic Board. Besides the inspectors of election, the following candidates are to be voted for: Supervisor, John Mortimer Bell; assessors, Samuel Bernstein; Aldermen: First Ward, James Scarlett; Second Ward, Theodore Taylor; Third Ward, Thomas B. Hodge; Fourth Ward, Frank Graham; Fifth Ward, Adolph W. Weller. Polls will be open at 9 a. m., and close at 9 p. m.

THEY WERE HIRED TO ROB THE STORE.

THREE MEN MAKE A CONFESSION IMPLICATING A CLOAKMAKER. Detectives Clarke and Browne, of the Prisoner's Market Court yesterday. Three of them were charged with burglarizing, while the fourth was charged with receiving stolen goods. The four prisoners were handcuffed together.

On the night of May 10 burglars entered the cloak manufactory of Herman Cohn, at No. 23 Wooster-st., and twenty-six jackets, one roll of jersey, one roll of silk, two chevrons, and several ropes were stolen. Captain McCullagh, to whom the robbery was reported, came to the conclusion that it must have been done by some one acquainted with the habits of the proprietor. Working upon this theory, the detectives began to watch Jacob Goldstein, twenty-two years old, of No. 27 Pike-st., who had been seen about the place, and on Friday last arrested him. Goldstein at once made a confession implicating Max Newman, thirty-three years old, of No. 47 Norfolk-st., and Max Jacobs, twenty-three, of No. 83 Eldridge-st., who in turn also admitted their guilt.

They said that all three had been hired to commit the burglary by Frank Eisman, a cloakmaker, of No. 91 Orchard-st. He had pointed out the place for them to rob. They had each received $5 for their work. Upon this information, Eisman was arrested. Some of the stolen goods were found in his place.

All four men were arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, and were held in default of $1,500 bail for examination.

It is understood that the committee will consider some of the recommendations with respect to immigrants which the National Health Conference

THE EVOLUTION OF TWO BUTTONS.

From The Boston Herald.

In a recent lecture Professor Drummond, in order to illustrate a point, related the following instance of the evolution of the swallow-tail coat.

In olden times English gentlemen wore a long, square-skirted coat quite like those which are worn by Boston gentlemen to-day. But the Englishman also rode horseback, and the heavy square skirt was an impediment in movement, so that he sliced it off, leaving only its rear portion. Then, too, he found what was left an impediment in walking about the woods and fields, and he put loops on the tail and two small buttons in the small of the back, by which the tail could be "reefed" on occasion.

And today every gentleman in evening dress and every well-dressed man wears two little buttons at the small of his back, but neither knows the reason why.

"CAVENDISH" IN BROOKLYN.

THE WHIST EXPERT WELCOMED BY THE CLUBS TO VISIT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Henry Jones, the English authority on whist, better known by his pen name of "Cavendish," who arrived on the America yesterday, is the guest of Robert H. Weems, president of the Interclub Whist League of Brooklyn and vice-president of the Carlton Club. The privileges of the Montauk, Carlton and other clubs of the city have been extended to him while he stays in Brooklyn. He has had many invitations from other cities. Mr. Jones expects to visit the World's Fair and many other places of interest. He is sixty-two years old, and in early life was a physician. Since 1854 he has paid much attention to whist, and in 1862 the first edition of his book on the game appeared. He put the name "Cavendish" on the title page, as he was a member of a club of that name, and has been known by it ever since. He said yesterday that if he played whist at Chicago it would be as a member of the Chicago Whist Club, to which he had been elected. He expects to attend the Whist Congress in Chicago on June 20. He has been elected an honorary member of the Montauk, Hamilton and Crescent Athletic clubs of Brooklyn, and the Carlton Club, which has no honorary members, has given to him a gold key of the clubhouse, the handle fashioned as the ace of clubs, and inscribed, "With the compliments and freedom of the Carlton Club, Brooklyn, New-York, Mr. Henry Jones, London, England, 1893."
